I declare that I have been properly informed by the owner of the M/V “Ventus Australis”, Transportes Maritimo Via Australis S.A., a Chilean corporation, Taxpayer Identification No. 76.400.630-5, hereinafter the carrier, on the conditions and risks involved in the contracted voyage and its related activities.

I declare that I am fully aware that the voyage and related activities organized by the carrier will be conducted in rough places away from urban centers, which do not have hospital and/or health care facilities capable of providing medical services – beyond first aid – promptly available if I suffer an accident, disease and/or any other type of physical or psychological condition affecting the health of the undersigned.

I especially put on record that I have been informed by the carrier on the conditions and physical capacities required to develop the various activities, as well as the fact that medical care beyond first aid will not be possible.

Further, I inform the carrier that I do not suffer any disease or disability that might increase the risks of the voyage or activities to the extent of preventing me from taking such voyage or conducting such activities.

Finally, I declare that I am aware that during the contracted voyage I might suffer pain or accidents related to it and other pains or accidents not related to it such as, for example, and without the following enumeration being restrictive, heart arrests, vascular and/or encephalic accidents, respiratory failures, etc.

Without prejudice to the unwavering rights I am vested with according to the legal regimen applicable to the ticket contract and in the period specific to it, if I take part in any activity organized by the carrier, I expressly declare that the carrier and/or its dependents and/or associates are not liable for accidents and/or diseases that might affect me or occur during the conduct of such activities which are not in the scope of passenger transport or the period of its execution.

Consequently, I, the undersigned, do hereby expressly declare, without any reservation, that I have decided to participate, remain in and/or undertake the activities organized by the carrier which are not within the period and scope of passenger transport under my own and entire responsibility.

Further, the carrier and/or its dependents and/or associates shall not be responsible for any injuries and sequels, permanent or temporary that I might suffer in consequence of the diseases and/or accidents resulting from the aforementioned activities nor for the damages that such injuries or sequels might cause me.

I expressly put on record that, even in the event of accidental death or death caused by the injuries and/or diseases suffered in the course of such activities, the carrier and/or its dependents and/or associates shall be under no responsibility.

Finally, I put on record that I am accompanied by the following minors (name, identity document and address):

Such minors will conduct the activities and tours organized by the carrier under my own responsibility. Consequently, I release the carrier and/or its dependents and/or associates from any responsibility for the diseases, accidents, injuries, damages and/or losses, including death, that might be suffered by the aforementioned minors during the said activities or in consequence thereof.

My attorneys, managers, heirs and/or legatees shall be bound to respect my abovementioned declarations.

Finally, I declare that I am aware that, during the trip, Australis may obtain photographic and audiovisual records of its facilities and/or passengers, on board their ships and/or expeditions, in which I and/or the minors traveling under my supervision could appear. Such records may be used for promotional or advertising purposes in Australis's website and / or in their social networking pages.

Likewise, I declare that I am aware that once on board, I can voluntarily share with the Company the images and personal records that I have taken of the trip and that, by doing so, I am authorizing Australis to use said images for commercial, promotional and advertising purposes, without requiring any payment or compensation on behalf of Australis.

Finally, I declare to know and accept the current rates and Ticket Contract for the corresponding season, both published on the website www.australis.com.

Notwithstanding the language in which the passenger requested and signed this affidavit, their signature implies that they expressly accept that in case of interpretative differences between the translated version of the affidavit and its original version in Spanish, the latter will prevail for all legal purposes.
